A Firm Foundation is Necessary

Training students to be activists before they fully understand why our country was founded, how our government is supposed to function, and what their role in it is supposed to be is foolish and potentially dangerous. Yet, much of the current civics curriculum does just that. According to the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), a whopping forty percent of students scored below the basic level in U.S. History.

This data is significant for many reasons. The world has just witnessed the worst attacks on Jews in one day since the Holocaust, and many young people are either apathetic about it or supportive of the attacks. The saying “those who don’t know history are prone to repeat it” is playing out at this moment in time.

The lack of knowledge regarding America's history is also key when considering how schools encourage (even incentivize) students to participate in rallies, protests, and demonstrations about issues they do not fully understand. Rather than creating poorly educated social justice warriors who are susceptible to being deceived by lies, parents and schools need to ensure that students have a firm grasp of history, a thorough understanding of our government, and the ability to think logically about facts and information as it relates to current events.

Freedom in Education is proud to be part of the Civics Alliance Coalition which is a dedicated group of organizations and citizens committed to restoring true civics education. We will be partnering with American Birthright Standards to work with state departments of education to adopt the new American Birthright Civics and American History standards. Civics Alliance has created strong civics standards for K-12 that parents can share with their school districts and school board representatives to demand better standards be adopted at the state level.

We believe that if we restore authentic civics education in k-12 schools, it will make a significant impact on society going forward.

Our goal is to cultivate a civically virtuous society by empowering parents, teachers, and administrators to diligently screen the various curriculum providers to ensure their primary goal is to deliver high-quality content free of political ideologies or social justice agendas.

Parents, you can stand in the gap and take part in actively engaging and educating your own children in American Civics. We hope you will take this FAMILY CIVICS TRIVIA on the road trip to your Thanksgiving celebrations.

These civics trivia questions attached were taken from the U.S. Citizenship Test. You can find more information and questions here: <https://www.uscis.gov/citizenship/civics-practice-test-2008>.

#RestoreCivics

Our dream is that every American high school student completes their education with a grasp of the functioning principles of our government, the reasons and methods behind the founding of America, and their responsibilities as citizens of the nation.

Help fund our #GoodBookDrive!

As we wrap up 2023, we are countering the efforts of organizations determined to fill libraries with sexually explicit material by sending wholesome book bundles to schools across the country. We've partnered with publishers and distributors whose only agenda is to get good books into the hands of children. By donating and sharing this initiative within your own network, you will be contributing to the success of the next generation.

HELP US COUNTER GLESEN'S $28M RAINBOW LIBRARY!

OUR 2023 GOAL IS TO STOCK 250 K-12 SCHOOLS WITH 6000 BOOKS THAT MAKE CURIOSITY, BEAUTY & GOODNESS INTO THE HEARTS, INTELLECTS, AND SPIRITS OF CHILDREN ACROSS ALL AGE GROUPS.

Join us in making this a reality by donating today.

DID YOU KNOW?

- 1000 K-12 schools were gifted 15812+ affirming books.
- 10% of our total book count.
- 80% of schools had more.
